Nutrition & Allergen Information

Last updated: November 2024

Welcome to the Green & Gather nutrition site. Everything we serve starts with whole vegetables, real grains and sauces we're proud of, and we think you should be able to see exactly what goes into your bowl. This site collects the nutrition and allergen details for our full menu in one place, so you can plan your order before you reach the counter.

We're happy to accommodate most dietary needs and allergies — just ask a team member. Our crews are trained on every item on the menu and can help you build something that works for you, whether you're avoiding dairy, eating plant-based, or managing a food allergy.

How to read our nutrition information

Calorie counts are for a standard build with the default grain, protein and sauce. Swapping or removing a component will change the numbers, and our team can help you estimate the difference. Allergen information reflects the ingredients in each item's recipe as of the date at the top of this page.

Plant-based and vegetarian

Every item marked vegan on our menu boards is made entirely without animal products, including honey. Items marked vegetarian may contain dairy, egg or honey. Several of our bowls and salads are naturally plant-based, and most others can be made so by leaving off the cheese or yogurt drizzle.

Gluten

Many of our bowls and salads are built without wheat-containing ingredients. Keep in mind that farro is a wheat grain, and that soy sauce and miso often contain wheat. If you're avoiding gluten, a bowl on brown rice or quinoa is your best starting point — and just ask a team member about your options at the wrap station.

Allergen Matrix v1

Last updated: November 2024 · Covers the current menu at all locations

The table below lists each menu item as it is served in its standard build, against the nine major food allergens recognised in the United States: milk, egg, fish, crustacean shellfish, tree nuts, peanuts, wheat, soy and sesame.

✓ indicates the allergen is present as an ingredient in the standard build. A blank cell indicates the allergen is not present. Calories are per serving for the standard build.

Notes

None of our menu items contain peanuts or tree nuts as ingredients. Our Thai Crunch Bowl is finished with a tamarind-lime sauce rather than a peanut sauce, which is a common question.

Shellfish is not used anywhere on our menu. Fish appears only in the anchovy caesar dressing on the Sesame Kale Caesar.

Items can be customised at the counter. Removing the cheese, yogurt drizzle or ranch from an item removes the milk and egg shown here; swapping farro for brown rice or quinoa removes the wheat from the grain component. Ask a team member if you'd like help building an order around a specific allergen.

Allergen information is based on the ingredients in each recipe as supplied to us and is reviewed when recipes change. Our kitchens prepare all items in a shared space.

Our Ingredient Promise

Last updated: November 2024

Green & Gather started with a simple idea: fast food should be real food. Five years on, that still means whole vegetables cut in our kitchens each morning, grains cooked fresh every day, and sauces made from recipes we developed ourselves rather than bought off a shelf.

Vegetables, cut daily

Our produce arrives washed from regional growers and is cut, roasted and charred in-store. Nothing comes out of a bag pre-chopped. Kale is stemmed and shredded by hand; broccoli and cauliflower are roasted hot enough to char the edges; sweet potatoes are cut into wedges and roasted with rosemary. If it's a vegetable, someone in the building touched it this morning.

Grains, cooked fresh

Brown rice, quinoa and farro are cooked in small batches throughout the day, never held overnight. Farro is a whole wheat grain with a chewy bite; if you're avoiding wheat, brown rice and quinoa are naturally wheat-free alternatives on any bowl.

Sauces we're proud of

Our tahini-based sauces and dressings, the yogurt drizzle, the caesar base and the miso-ginger dressing are produced in our own central kitchen from recipes developed by our culinary team, then delivered fresh to every location. A small number of specialty items, like our tamarind-lime sauce and chili crisp, come from partner producers we've worked with for years and whose ingredients we review line by line.

Proteins

Our chicken is antibiotic-free thigh meat, marinated and grilled. Our tofu is firm, marinated and roasted for texture. Both arrive from long-standing partners and are portioned to order in the kitchen.

Allergens and food safety

We know that for many guests, the ingredient list isn't a curiosity — it's a health question. Every Green & Gather kitchen follows strict allergen protocols to keep your meal safe. Our teams are trained on every item on the menu, allergy orders are flagged and prepared with fresh gloves and clean tools, and our allergen matrix is kept up to date as recipes change. If you have an allergy, tell us when you order and we'll take care of the rest.

What we don't do

No artificial colours. No high-fructose corn syrup. No peanuts or tree nuts in any recipe. No frying in partially hydrogenated oils. And no menu item we wouldn't serve to our own families.

Seasonal Menu

Last updated: November 2024

Alongside our core menu we run a rotating seasonal bowl built around what's best at the market. Seasonal items are available at all locations while they last.

Now Serving

Summer Peach Bowl — 620 cal · Vegetarian · Contains milk

Ripe stone fruit, quinoa and shredded kale with a cool Greek yogurt drizzle and a squeeze of lime. Bright, light and made for hot days. Ask for it without the yogurt drizzle for a plant-based build.

Allergens: milk. Wheat-free as built. See the allergen matrix for the full picture.

Past seasonals

Seasonal bowls come and go, but a few have been popular enough to come back. Here's what we've served so far:

Item	Season	Cal	Notes
Spring Pea & Mint Bowl	Spring 2024	580	Quinoa, sugar snaps, peas, feta, mint. Vegetarian; contains milk.
Winter Citrus & Beet Bowl	Winter 2023–24	640	Farro, roasted beets, blood orange, lemon-tahini. Vegan; contains wheat, sesame.
Harvest Grain Bowl	Autumn 2023	710	Farro, roasted delicata, apple, cranberry, maple vinaigrette. Vegan; contains wheat.
Summer Peach Bowl	Summer 2023	620	First run of the bowl now back on the menu. Vegetarian; contains milk.
Spring Asparagus Bowl	Spring 2023	600	Brown rice, asparagus, soft egg, lemon-tahini. Vegetarian; contains egg, sesame.
